- the user or the Company has provided appropriate safeguards in relation to the transfer;
 - the user has enforceable rights and effective legal remedies;
 - the Company complies with its obligations under the Data Protection Laws by providing an adequate level of protection to any Personal Data that is transferred; and
 - the Company complies with reasonable instructions notified to it in advance by the user with respect to the processing of the Personal Data.
- IV. Shall notify the user without undue delay after becoming aware of a potential data security breach;
- V. At the written direction of the user or on termination of the business relationship return personal data or copies thereof to the user unless required by the applicable Legislation to store such personal data.
- VI. Maintain complete and accurate records and information to demonstrate compliance with the applicable Legislation.
- VII. In the case of a personal data breach, the Company shall without undue delay and, where feasible, not later than 72 hours after having become aware of it, notify the personal data breach to the supervisory authority, unless the personal data breach is unlikely to result in a risk to the rights and freedoms of natural persons. Where the notification to the supervisory authority is not made within 72 hours, it shall be accompanied by reasons for the delay. The notification shall at least:
- a. Describe the nature of the personal data breach;
 - b. Communicate the name and contact details of the data protection officer or other contact point where more information can be obtained;
 - c. Describe the likely consequences of the personal data breach;
 - d. Describe the measures taken or proposed to be taken by the Company to address the personal data breach including, where appropriate, measures to mitigate its possible adverse effects.

Actions to be taken in the event of data breach:

1. Containment and recovery

The immediate priorities of the Company in case of a data breach is to contain the breach, assess the potential adverse consequences for the client(s), based on how serious and substantial these are and how likely they are to happen and to limit the scope. In case of such breach, the Management of the Company shall take the lead on investigating the breach. The steps to be taken where personal data has been breached are among others the following:

- i. Inform the recipient not to pass it on or discuss it with anyone else;
- ii. Inform the recipient to destroy or delete the personal data they have received and for them to confirm in writing that they have done so;
- iii. Explain to the recipient the implications if they further disclose the data; and
- iv. Where relevant, inform the data subjects whose personal data is involved what has happened so that they can take any necessary actions to protect themselves.

2. Assessing the risk

The Company shall at the same time assess the potential adverse consequences for its client(s) and how serious or substantial these may be and how likely they are to happen. To this effect the Company shall assess the nature of the data breached and the potential purpose for such breach and where it may be used in a manner to harm the data object. Further, it needs to assess how many objects are potentially affected by such breach and the harm that may be suffered by them as a result of such breach. The third step to be taken is the consideration for breach notification to the object and/or authority and then the Company shall review the incident in question and take further action in order to prevent future breaches.

6. DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL DATA

6.1. The Company and/or its processor may be obligated to disclose any personal data regarding any of its users to any relevant competent authority as may be required under the Legislation from time to time in any of the following situations:
